

Gnosis Mosaics "en fête" at François & Co. [at the Galleries of Peachtree Hills]

It was early in the summer when François & Co. and Gnosis' creative minds started exchanging ideas to integrate mosaics into their new 9000 square foot gallery at the Galleries of Peachtree Hills in Atlanta. The idea was to complement the beautiful and classic lines of their Scagliola and limestone kitchen hoods and bath tubs with our handcrafted natural stone mosaics. The contrast between the old and the new was critical; the old Scagliola technique in a contemporary environment; the ancient mosaic technique on innovative designs.

Coming up with the designs took a few iterations; it was virtually giving birth to a whole new set of concepts. The thought process behind these designs make each one of them a masterpiece. "We went through a lot of sketch paper... and the overall process was incredibly fun".

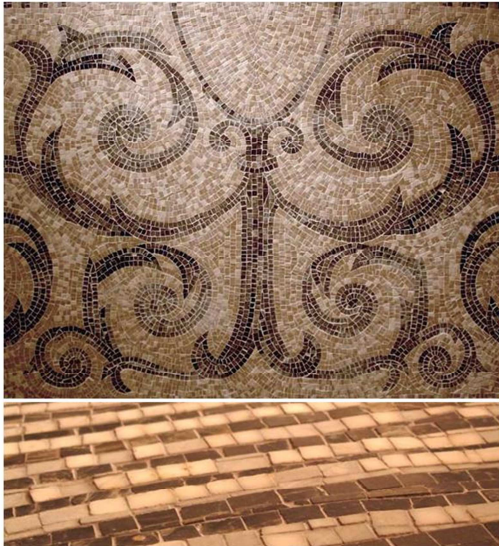

"Atlanta will rediscover the capabilities of mosaics in kitchen and bathroom applications". The setting at François & Co. is very clean, uncluttered and you will be able to see a few examples of what can be done with this medium. All the pieces are installed with a natural finish however all mosaics can be perfectly leveled or polished if required, especially for bathroom floor applications.

Visit the new François & Co. gallery this December and discover these Gnosis mosaics. The designs will be replaced frequently so that you will always be able to see innovative mosaic designs.

This December discover a collection of unparalleled handcrafted mosaics, specially designed for François & Co.'s new gallery in the Galleries of Peachtree Hills

[the mosaic in motion] is a mosaic concept that integrates fundamental design principles: simplicity, balance and neutral colors, into a beautiful and somewhat orthodox setting: an arabesque arch for a bathroom panel

The Bouillabaisse backsplash in the second level delivers a traditional kitchen related theme in an innovative way. The background design provides dynamism and motion.
